Leadership Training for Supervisors and Managers

Leadership is a much desired skill for anyone who supervises people or yearns to live a greater-more satisfying life. Employees can be made to bring their hands and feet to work, but it takes a leader to win the hearts and minds of others. Leaders know how to motivate people to want to give their best. Creativity and production is maximized when supervisors know the secrets of effective leadership. This 6-hour session is packed with valuable lessons! It focuses on what the best leaders know about: motivating others to be their best; supervision; decision making; building trust; effective communication and solidifying better working relationships. Participants will enjoy interacting in numerous activities doing challenging and unforgettable exercises that strengthen leadership skills and highlight opportunities for growth. Our fun-filled educational leadership training workshop goes far beyond just listening to a speaker; it gets you involved in your own personal and group development by an experienced professor who has satisfied thousands of learners nation-wide.
